Personal Background

* Born and raised in a humble but entrepreneurial family in Kenya with 8 siblings
* Worked during school holidays on the small-scale family farm (6 acres with coffee, maize and beans)
* 1982-83 worked on a large-scale dairy farm in the Netherlands
* Gained a specific interest towards dairy
* Travelling through S-E Asia and Africa expanded my dairy knowledge
* 1994 founded Happy Cow Ltd, processing local fermented milk and cheese
At the dairy farm Netherlands (1982-83)
Happy Cow Early Beginnings

1994
- Received 300 ltrs milk
- Processed into cheese (Gouda) and local fermented milk
- Only sold at factory shop
- Employed 3 staff

1999
- Received 3000 ltrs milk
- Processed into wider cheese varieties (Cheddar, Mozzarella etc.), yogurt and fresh cream
- Started distribution to other towns
- Employed 30 staff
Start of Happy Cow 1996
Happy Cow Present

Today

- Expanded into 600 m² factory
- Increased intake to 17,000 ltrs milk daily
- Increased product range of 25+ dairy products
- Distributes products throughout Kenya: supermarkets, hotels, fast-food outlets, etc.
- Export also to neighboring EAC countries
- Employing over 100 staff
- Attained ISO standards (22000:2005)
- Halal status certification

The Wider Impact of Milk in my Story?

* Supports families of over 100 direct staff
* Maintains the livelihoods of 1500 small to medium scale dairy farmers
* Provides business to support service providers and suppliers (packaging materials, financing, insurance etc.)
* Delivers a variety of healthy quality dairy products to consumers
* Dairy business incubator
My pathway to success as a woman

Challenges as a woman
* Conservative Man – Woman relationship in the African context
* Difficult access to finances as a woman
* General business is dominated by men (globally)

My strengths
* Entrepreneurial upbringing
* Spirited attitude
* International exposure
* Empowered by family
